This mystery is one of discovery: a puzzle you might say. And of course, it is summertime, so there is a romance.

Tourists are everywhere in downtown Toronto, Canada. Floating above their heads are silken banners on which is stamped on each the picture of a nineteenth century vase. Its sides are a vivid blue. The base and lip are gilt. In the panel on one side of the vase is a picture of a young lover pushing a laughing young woman on a swing. People are invited to come and see the vase on display in the nearby ceramic museum. Only one side of the vase is shown. There is a prize if anyone can guess what is going on in the picture on the other side of the vase.

Why then would a young American woman who has newly arrived in Toronto take one look at the vase and faint? Why would an exhausted Crown Prosecutor give up his holidays to help her? How would a young reporter manage to get involved in their lives?
