Today, the US Army considers the staff ride an essential aspect of historical education for the modern military professional. This staff ride handbook analyzes Grant's 1864 campaign from the crossing of the Rapidan River on 4 May to the initiation of the crossing of the James River on 15 June. Although this volume focuses on the operational level of war, it provides a heavy dose of tactical analysis, making this ride a superb tool for developing Army leaders at almost all levels. Designed to be completed in three days, this staff ride is flexible enough to allow persons or units to conduct a one-day or two-day ride that will still enable a full range of insights. The book includes 467 pages of text, maps, instructions, and bibliography.
