Systemic Inquiry: Innovations in Reflexive Practice Research Gail Simon, Alex Chard

This edited book is for relationally reflexive practitioners who want to research practice with inspiring innovative research methodology and research in ways which reflect the sensitivity, creativity, values and practices from their everyday working lives. The chapters offer practical and theoretical help in forging connections between relationally sensitive practice, reflexive inquiry and the wider field of post-positivist qualitative inquiry. Reflexivity weaves systemic social constructionist, collaborative dialogical and narrative practices in the fields of therapy, consultation, teaching, supervision, leadership, organisational development, community work and activism.

Ann L Cunliffe, Professor of Organization Studies, University of Bradford, UK

“This book connects research, relationships and ethics in a thoughtful and meaningful way. For anyone interested in taking a systemic constructionist perspective to researching and theorizing practice, the book is a great resource, offering practical guides, a range of methods, along with helpful examples from the experience of authors who are carrying out research in a variety of contexts. What is also important is that each chapter illustrates the ‘realities’ of doing research – that inquiry is not the structured, de-humanised process many research methods books convey. Instead, it is often a messy, challenging, reflexive and ultimately rewarding experience.”

Peter Lang and Susan Lang, Systemic Founders of KCC, London, UK

“Here is a comprehensive bringing together of thoughts and practices involved in creating knowledge through doing systemic social constructionist research. A rich and inspiring resource for the practitioner. Travel in and enjoy your research activity!”

Frank J. Barrett, author "Yes to the Mess: Surprising Leadership Lessons from Jazz"

“This collection is a hopeful reminder that reflexive research can be a powerful and transformative intervention in social life. What an exciting and important book! ”

Peter Stratton, Emeritus Professor of Family Therapy, University of Leeds, UK

“This important book has assembled leading thinkers and researchers to usher in greater coherence to the imaginative thinking that has emerged as the postmodern social constructionist shift is applied to practitioner research.”
