Brick of Mormon Stories contains twenty-six (26) LEGO-illustrated stories from the Book of Mormon. The illustrated stories help children to become familiar with the Book of Mormon by combining scripture with the toys and characters used during play. The purpose of Brick of Mormon Stories is to help children liken all scriptures unto [themselves], that it might be for [their] profit and learning. (See 1 Nephi 19:23) Stories are told using the actual verses from the Book of Mormon so children can become better acquainted with the language of the scriptures and the text written by God's prophets. Illustrations will help them remember the stories, and motivate readers to include discussions of people and events from the scriptures in their playtime activities. Scripture references are provided throughout to help readers follow along with family scripture study.
